EOS Corrugated Group, March 16 2020

Dear Customer, Partner,

We all face events that have impacted, are impacting or will impact your industrial capabilities, wherever they are in the world.

Many of you have anticipated, as we all hope for a rapid return to a "business as usual" situation. Consequently, in recent days we have received numerous orders and we thank you for those.

Many of these orders have been placed in anticipation, to create a buffer- stocks for our Customers, as some of them may fear disruptions in the supply chain.

At EOS GROUP, we have anticipated our supplies of raw materials and are covered for around six weeks. If the logistics supply chains continue to operate as per now, we will be able to deliver our BRICQ, RODICUT or TOOLS products to you without any difficulty.

However, this large number of unexpected orders are somehow disrupting our planning right now. In order not to penalize anyone and to be able to maintain the best Service to all of our Customers (together with reasonable delivery time) and to accompany you towards the best possible recovery, we have asked your local contact to get closer to you in order to anticipate your future needs, from now to year-end ideally.

Obvioulsy, the delivery schedule of your next orders could vary depending on your location, for reasons beyond our control.

We want to take the opportunity of this message to express our strong support for the corrugated board industry, the heart of our business. As we all know, our industry is particularly strategic in this period for the transportation of consumer goods to the populations in need. We also want to reiterate our solidarity with all of our Industrial Customers.

We recognize that these are uncertain times but be assured that we are by your side.

Warmest regards.
